

Levi's and Converse Make an All-American Sneaker

By Angela Velasquez • January 16, 2015 • Brands

Levi's and Converse have teamed up to create a limited-edition sneaker exclusively for Japanese retailer BEAMS. The Levi's x Converse Denim All-Stars, made with selvedge denim from the White Oak cotton mills in North Carolina, blends Converse's signature white vulcanized soles with indigo denim uppers and red stitch detailing, just like a pair of Levi's jeans. The sneaker is slated to launch Feb. 9.
