

Go to www.conedenim.com to view the referenced video

Fashion • July, 31 2015 •

By Jonathan Luk

Cone Mills Releases “Still Made In America” Video to Celebrate 110th Anniversary

17 Shares

Share
Tweet
Email
Reddit
Flipboard
WhatsApp
Comments

To celebrate their 110th anniversary, Cone Denim Mills has released a behind-the-scenes video exhibiting the historic White Oak Mill, with interviews given by a few of the company’s longest-standing employees. The video, entitled “Still Made In America,” delves less into how the denim is put through its manufacturing process, and instead focuses on the people who have made – and continue to make – the company what it is today. Due to the family-like atmosphere and obligation to their roles, many of the employees’ careers span several decades. How that’s possible is plain for all to see.

Go to the link below to see what the company did with the Chuck Taylor All Star 70 silhouette.

<http://www.highsnobiety.com/2015/05/26/converse-concepts-all-star-chuck-taylor-70-cone-denim/>

