

Lee 101 Releases Their Rider Jean in 15oz. Natural Indigo Selvedge Denim

Jul 3, 2017 | New Releases | by Albert Muzquiz

For an all-American pair of jeans, it doesn't get much more Yankee than a pair of Lee jeans. And if you want to get in on celebrating America's Independence Day (no, not the movie), a new pair from Lee 101 would be a way to do it.

The Lee 101 Rider is a staple of denim history (James Dean wore them in Giant and Rebel Without a Cause) and these come just like the original: selvedge, sanforized, and with a convenient/potentially dangerous zip-fly. If you needed further convincing, these jeans are made from natural indigo-dyed denim from Cone Mills, making them even more authentic. The denim comes in slightly heavy at 15oz., and is cut in a classic slim-straight fit.

Available for $183 at Cultizm.
